ISIS Ambush

Bang! Bang! I wake up to the sound of gunfire

Tenses.

I jumped out of bed
And picked up my rifle
I looked outside, so many dead

I open our cabin door
Shots are fired at me
I take a few shots
Then all of a sudden I can't see

They have thrown a flash bang
I fall to the ground
My ears were ringing
From the flash bang's deafening sound

My sight is back
I can hear once more
I stagger back to my feet
Even though my whole body is sore

I slowly walk towards the door
I take one step out
It seems the madness has ended
It was ISIS without a doubt

All my friends and colleagues
Lay on the ground in peace
Blood has been drawn everywhere
Those friends now like a broken puzzle piece

In the end we can't do anything about it
Apart from remember all the soldiers that died
That day, 10 years later we remember these people
At the death place we cried.
